Information about the direct-debit process at this institution of higher education

With this tuition fee authorisation both you and the account holder agree to the following terms and conditions:

- You authorise payment of the 2016-2017 tuition fee by the account holder mentioned above.
- The account holder will ensure that the account balance is sufficient to cover the tuition fee payment on the tuition fee payment dates.
- This authorisation cannot be prematurely revoked.
- The account holder and the student are both jointly and severably liable for full and timely payment of the tuition fee.

More information about the tuition fees and tuition fee payment can be found on www.thehagueuniversity.com/tuitionfees.

Permission and refunds

With this authorisation, you grant permission to The Hague University of Applied Sciences to process a single or recurrent direct-debit order to your bank to debit the above amount from your account and your bank permission to make a payment (in instalments if required) for this amount in accordance with the direct-debit order from The Hague University of Applied Sciences. If you do not agree with this payment you can have it paid back. To arrange this you must contact your bank within 8 weeks of the transaction. Ask your bank about the conditions. This does not release you from your payment obligation; this is only possible by withdrawing the enrolment application before the start of the academic year. A request for termination of enrolment may be submitted after the start of the academic year; there are statutory periods for this as well as financial consequences.

Disclaimer

The authorised amount is the currently applicable amount of the tuition fees. The person who provided the authorisation agreed upon signing it that the amount of the authorisation may be changed if the amount of the tuition fees changes due to new legislation and regulations or changes in the enrolments or enrolment history. Adjustments to the amount authorised will take effect only after they have been announced to the student in advance by e-mail.
